The New Jersey Historic Trust was created in 1967 to preserve New Jersey's historic resources across the state. The Trust is a government and non-profit agency whose mission is to advance historic preservation in New Jersey through historic preservation sensitive state policies, funding programs, and education initiatives.

The Discover New Jersey History License Plate Fund is supported by donations, and sales and renewals of the Discover NJ History License Plate, which was established in 1995 to support historic preservation activities throughout the state. The plate feature a Victorian-style row house image from a painting by New Jersey artist Harry Devlin. The Discover NJ History License Plate Fund provides small grants (up to $5,000) to develop and promote visitor ready sites as heritage tourism destinations.

Since 2011, the Trust has recommended grant awards totaling $141,274 for 34 projects.
